

Resolve Corporation

Tom Aiton

Lawrence Zimmering

Jay S. Hennick, President & Chief Executive Officer of FirstService Corporation today announced the appointments of Tom Aiton and Lawrence Zimmering as Co-CEO's of Resolve, a corporation created by the merger of FirstService's Business Services companies. Both promotions are effective immediately.

Since 1996, Tom Aiton has been CEO of DDS Distribution Services Ltd., a leading provider of marketing support services and a predecessor company of Resolve. Tom's leadership and client-focused vision has resulted in significant growth and success serving Fortune 500 companies across North America.

Lawrence Zimmering was formerly CEO of BDP Business Data Services Ltd., a leading provider of business process outsourcing services and a predecessor company of Resolve. For the last eight years, Lawrence has led BDP through a period of significant, profitable growth as a trusted outsourcing partner of large corporations, financial institutions, and government agencies.

Resolve (www.resolvecorporation.com) merges all four companies owned by FirstService and its management partners in its Business Services division into one enterprise built to provide an unparalleled suite of marketing support and business process outsourcing services. Resolve was created to more effectively meet the evolving strategic and operational needs of its clients for integrated, innovative solutions. Built on a deep and strong heritage, Resolve employs over 4,000 people in 24 locations across North America. The core purpose of Resolve is to improve business performance continuously for its clients.

FirstService Corporation (www.firstservice.com) is a North American leader in the rapidly growing service sector providing services to commercial and residential customers in the following four areas: residential property management; integrated security services; consumer services; and business services.

Resolve